WaterAid 6 Peaks Challenge

If you're fit, can form a team of five to eight people (including two driving support crew) and would like to raise funds for WaterAid, why not take up the 6 Peaks Challenge?

You'll scale the summits of the highest peaks of the six regions of the British Isles (England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland, Republic of Ireland and Isle of Man) and be part of an event which aims to raise £200,000 to support WaterAid's safe water, sanitation and hygiene projects in Africa and Asia.

WaterAid will support you and your team every step of the way with event planning and fundraising advice, helping you each raise a minimum of £500 in sponsorship.

Working as a team to tackle this physical endurance test will foster:

- ◆ personal discovery and growth
- ◆ team empathy and spirit
- ◆ positive mental attitude and behaviour
- ◆ social responsibility
- ◆ a sense of achievement

So why not form a team and take up the challenge?

A team from Holman Fenwick Willan has taken part in the 6 Peaks Challenge for the last three years! They said, "We are really inspired by the opportunity to walk all of the six highest peaks in the British Isles for the benefit of so many people. The event is exhilarating; requiring teamwork, motivation and stamina. It's a thoroughly enjoyable experience – a chance to get to know colleagues better, make new friends and take in some incredible scenery. We'll be back for more!"
